Clarendon to host celebration Monday

Clarendon will host NewsChannel 10 for a Summer Celebration next Monday, July 15, at the Donley County Courthouse Square.

Volunteers are lining up games and events for the evening with activities running from 4 to 8 p.m. NewsChannel 10 will broadcast their 5:00 and 6:30 newscasts live from the Donley County Courthouse Square.

Vendors and live music will be set by 3:30 p.m., and, at 4:00, a law enforcement and fire escort will parade the NewsChannel 10 crew from the college to the courthouse down Third Street.

Free t-shirts will be given away to 100 people at 5:30 p.m., and the frozen t-shirt contest will be held at 6:00.

Following the live broadcast from 6:30-7:00, the Sandell Drive-In will host a free screening of Garfield at dusk.

Those interested in having a booth at the event can call Brian Barboza at 806-874-3438 for more information.

TxDOT warns public about rights-of-way

With summer garage sales and upcoming elections, the public sometimes forgets what is allowed on TxDOT rights-of-way.

Encroachments on state highways and right-of-ways includes any unauthorized structures, vehicles or roadside vendors that could cause damage to the roadway system, increase litter and frequently create an unsafe or hazardous condition.

Under the provisions of the Texas Administrative Code, a person may not park or place any vehicle, structure or sign wholly or in part within a TxDOT right-of-way with the purpose of selling any item or service, with the exception of certain approved applications that include edible agricultural commodities and approved event signs or banners.

Other examples of approved structures granted through an application process include mailboxes, driveways, cattle guards, historical markers and memorial markers.

Any other structures or signs, such as vehicles, political campaigns, and vendor or garage sale signs are not allowed on TxDOT rights-of-way. Utility lines, both underground and overhead, are commonly placed along TxDOT rights-of-way to service the public.

Even a legally placed sign, banner or structure off the right-of-way should never be distracting to passing motorists.

TxDOT may immediately and without notice remove any sign, structure or vehicle from a highway right-of-way that has not been approved or authorized, and any associated costs will be at the owner's expense."

CC wins title in Australian contest

A dominant display by Clarendon College saw the 2024 ICMJ National Championship go to the team from Texas last week with the University of Queensland coming in second place.

The winning team, made up of Libby Modisette, Scott Phillips, Lydia Sharp and Jace Hall finished 26 points ahead of UQ.

Clarendon's Libby Modisette also took out the title of Champion Individual with a score of 1089, just four points ahead of UQ's Jade Wilkinson.

CC took out four of the six competition categories including pork judging, beef judging, and commercial evaluation.

The Japan National team also took home some ribbons, winning the Overall Questions category, with Hokkaido University student Momo Sato achieving the highest individual score in the lamb judging competition.

ICMJ President Dr Peter McGilchrist said having such talented and dedicated international teams participating in the Australian ICMJ National Conference and Competition reflected how well-respected the event is internationally.

"We're very honoured to welcome international teams like Clarendon College and the Japan National team and it's very impressive to see how well they performed in the Australian environment," Dr McGilchrist said.

"All of the competitors put in such an outstanding effort across the competition and it's been a fantastic end to the ICMJ National Conference."

The top 16 individuals in the competition were narrowed down to a team of 11 who will go on to another ICMJ event later this year where they'll take part in further professional development opportunities and industry tours.

They'll be joined by a second group of students selected for their leadership skills, dedication, and their potential to have a positive impact on the red meat industry.

From that larger group, five students will be chosen in the Australian ICMJ team to tour the United States in January next year and compete on the US meat judging circuit at the National Western Stock Show in Denver.

Celebration draws big attendance

It was a busy time in Clarendon last weekend with a good turnout for the 147th annual Saints' Roost Celebration July 4-6, starting with the Lions Club's bingo and barbecue cookoff on Thursday and running through the parade, rodeo, and other big events on Saturday.

The Lions' bingo packed about 96 people in the Lions Hall the morning of the Fourth to play for 27 fabulous bags - coolers, tool bags, designer purses, etc. - that ranged in value from about $50 to more than $500. Afterwards, the Lions' barbecue cookoff drew five teams that prepared chicken, pork, and beef entries. The winners of the people's choice voting were Best Beef - Taylor Shelton, Best Pork - Lauren Graves, and Best Chicken - Chris D'Costa.

The Junior Ranch Rodeo wrapped up activities for the Fourth, and the Depression Luncheon was held at the Crossities Ministry Center Friday followed by the first night of the COEA Ranch Rodeo, the results of which are printed separately.

The theme for celebration parades this year was "A Salute to Service," honoring the men and women in uniform who serve America.

The Liberty Electric Kids Parade started things off Saturday morning with three age categories plus a motorized division.

Winners were as follows: Motorized - first place Ransom Wylce Renee and second place Oakleigh Douglass; Ages 0-3 - first place Astrid Jaramillo, second place Rodey Henson, and third place Natalie Dillman; Ages 4-8: first place Kendall Danner, second place Kinze Zongker, and third place Lennyn Gaines; and Ages 9 and Up: first place Elizabeth Newton, second place McKinley Wilhelm, and third place Kennedy Wilhelm.

In the Herring Bank Parade, the Clarendon High School Class of 2025 won the first place Float, Summer Towing had the best car/truck entry, best Animal entry was MR Cattle, Newhouse Farms had the best Tractor entry, and Country Bloomers Flowers & Gifts had the best Other entry.

The Chamber's second annual REFZ Lawnmower Barrel Race drew nine contestants for the timed course event. Aaron Hanes finished the course in 56 seconds, and Emmalyne Roys was the runner up with a time of 59 seconds. Special recognition went to Michael Newhouse for being the only participant to finish the race with no penalties.

The Chamber also hosted its second annual Best of Donley County Blue Ribbon Exhibition during the celebration, and those results are listed in a separate article.

The Al Morrah Shrine Club served about 500 plates of barbecue this year. A portion of the proceeds from the annual barbecue are used in to help pay for the transportation of kids to the Shriners' burns and crippled children's hospitals.

The Donley County Junior Livestock Association raffled off a gun, and Craig Snell won it. Roy Bertrand won the drawing for the First Baptist Church youth group, and Nikki Robinson and Judy Ward won the drawings for the Consuela bag and Cornell's gift card respectively held by the CHS Cheerleaders.

The Clarendon Lions Club's Cow Patty Bingo was won by Russell Estlack, Bob Weiss, Courtney D'Costa, and Jesus Hernandez.

Henson's annual Turtle Race was also held Saturday afternoon in its traditional location at Third and Kearney. A total of 109 youth entries competed in three different age divisions. Winning turtle jockeys this year were: age 0-4, Chambray Askew; age 5-8, Kendall Danner; and age 9-16, Meredith Artho. Adults then competed in a 17 and up division, and Carey Wann and Aaron Mays both won in a turtle tie.

Televised debates can sway voters

Historically speaking, presidential debates are relatively new. The first one presidential debate was held between Richard Nixon and John F. Kennedy in 1960.

There were plenty of debates for other positions. The 1858 Lincoln-Douglass Debates for the Illinois Senate seat are probably the most famous, but the presidency was too important, and the idea was we should not elect a person who wanted that much power to the presidency.

Since 1960 there have been several historical moments in presidential debates. Some were gaffs like Gerald Ford's 1976 line, "There is no Soviet domination of Eastern Europe, and there never will be under a Ford administration."

historically speaking by dr. james finck

Others were more underhanded cuts like Obama's 2008 line, "You're likable enough, Hillary." Then there was possibly the best line of all time when the 73-year-old Ronald Reagan said "I will not make age an issue of this campaign. I am not going to exploit for political purposes my opponent's youth and inexperience."

To be honest, I am not a big fan of debates. Its normally two blowhards shouting at each other and more often than not they don't actually answer the questions asked.

Lately debates are more about soundbites than issues and candidates end up in name calling. I appreciated the format where they stuck to time limits or the candidate's mic was cut off.

While name calling still broke out, they could only speak when they had a hot mic and not while the other was speaking.

If you ask the candidates, I'm sure they would say last month's debate was the greatest one in history.

I assume they felt that way considering they felt everything they have done in their tenures were the greatest. I counted. Seventeen times they said their administration or programs were the greatest or best - not just good - but the greatest of all time.

There were some historical aspects of this debate.

For the first time since the original 1960 Nixon-Kennedy debate, there was no live audience present.

First time they muted the mics when their time was done. Thank you for that!

This was the earliest the debates were held in the year. Normally they do not happen until after the party conventions. Finally, and I am sure I will write more about this later, it's the first time two presidents debated each other. Not the first time two presidents ran against each other, but first time they debated.

Speaking historically, possibly the most famous presidential debate was that first one between incumbent VP Nixon and Sen. Kennedy. A lot has been written over the years about this debate.

This idea of looks is a big part of the legacy of the 1960 election. The way it was reported and the way I even have taught it was that people who listened to the debates on the radio came away thinking Nixon won the debate, but those who watched on TV felt Kennedy won.

While this idea has been accepted for years, there are some flaws and some historians have rightly called for a new analysis.

The first idea is easy, their ages. Kennedy was 43 years old during the debates while Nixon was only 47.

Not a big difference. Secondly, is an eye test. While I was not alive during these debates, I have watched them, they are easy to find online.

As for the eye test last week, voters will have to decide for themselves. Most news networks are reporting that Biden looked too old and at times seemed incomprehensible.

Were pigs worth 35 million francs?

In 1840 the Republic of Texas was hoping to borrow 35 million francs from France until some marauding pigs initiated events that put an end to the negotiations.

Count Alphonse de Saligny came to Texas in 1839 as France's representative to the new republic. Although he saw the economic potential of this new country, Saligny did not relate well with the rough and crude ways of the frontiersmen with whom he was now associating.

Although the grounds and gardens of the French embassy were fenced, the pigs frequently forced their way onto the property to eat the corn reserved for the horses. Saligny reported that on one occasion, a dozen pigs burst into the stable and frightened eight horses that completely wrecked the stable in their frenzy.

claimed that three pigs entered his bedroom, ate his linens, and destroyed his papers.

Saligny further complained that his servants spent two hours every morning repairing the fence and that 140 pounds of nails had thus far been used. But still, the pigs worked their way in.

Finally in desperation, Saligny ordered one of his servants to kill some of the pigs.

Upon finding his slain pigs, Bullock became so angered that he physically attacked the servant and pounded him severely with his fists. To Saligny, such an act toward the Charge d'affaires of the King of France and his servants was an "odious violation of the law of vignettes tales of the old west by george u. hubbard nations," and he demanded that Bullock be punished consistently with "the enormity of the offense."

Bullock was arrested and then released on bond, claiming that Saligny should have built a better fence. This hardly satisfied Saligny, and after his further complaints reached the Texas Secretary of State, Bullock was re-arrested but again released.

All this could have passed as a humorous set of occurrences except for one thing. Saligny's brother-in-law was the French Minister of Finance. The loan of 35 million francs that Texas sought was not granted.

The holiday afterglow of July 4th

Afterglows are wonderful, but are waning of late. Many folks forfeit times of warm reflection, too busy in endless pursuits of whatever comes next.

Oh, afterglows are still around for important life events such as birthdays, anniversaries, graduations, promotions, holidays and such, but not like in yesteryear, when few roses went unsmelled.

Uncle Mort and his gang down in the thicket ignore the calendar, determined to enjoy afterglows after such trivial triumphs as finding quarters under sofa cushions, sometimes even dimes....

Yes, afterglows are alive and well in the thicket, and Mort says July 4th this year was perhaps the best one yet.

From the standpoint of noise and skies ablaze with brilliant colors, not much was different.

What was different was the raucous laughter heard throughout the swamp. Sometimes the squeals and howls competed with the booming sounds of heavy-duty "ka-boomers."

During lulls, they were unmistakable, seeming to originate from an old house bought recently by a couple from the city. Appearance wise, they seemed to fit right in, what with their two-digit Social Security numbers, furrowed brows and hair that has seen the snow of many winters....

Ever bold, Mort decided to arise early on July 5th, steer his golf cart to the new neighbor's place, get the low-down on the laughter and then proceed to his gang's afterglow at the general store.

Following introductions, Mort asked about the raucous laughter. The couple looked at each other and laughed again, clearly understanding why there'd be such an inquiry.

After all, only hours earlier, they were on their porch swing sharing jokes, not knowing that their piercing laughter was wafting well beyond their picket fence.

Instead, was racing across their little stretch of America, all the way to the fruited plain.

"We still find the old jokes to be funny," the newcomer said. His wife nodded in agreement. They also think that if they simply numbered their jokes, they could laugh just as heartily upon remembering what each number stands for!

Mort asked them to repeat the joke that had elicited greatest laughter, sound of which exceeded that of cherry bombs exploding round about....

They told of another older couple; they, too, were on their porch swing, but on an ordinary evening.

"Honey, if I won the lottery, what would you do?" the hubby asked. "I'd take my half and leave you high and dry," his wife answered. "You're in luck," he fired back. "I won $20 yesterday. Here's your $10, and let's stay in touch."

Mort joined them in hearty laughter, then headed for the general store....

Upon arrival, Mort soon "ruled the conversational roost," ready to share the story that had created so much laughter

the idle american by don newbury

the night before. He requested silence, hopeful to keep his "train of thought on track."

"Train of thought? You don't even have a caboose of thought," one of his cronies cackled.

Again, this gaggle of "yesteryear" holdovers yakked and "dominoed" until the sun drooped westward. A good time was had by all....

A funny thing happened to me last week as I walked down a church hallway.

I heard someone yell, "Hey, Shorty!" Since this was my nickname 75 years ago before my height shot upward, I naturally reacted. "How did you know my old nickname?"

"I didn't know it was your old nickname," my friend responded. "I was referencing shortness of breath."....

Don't we run short on laughter? Maybe it's because we're not looking for it much anymore. Still, it remains an important elixir for happy lives.

Recently, I heard a new response to the old "how-are-you-doing?" query. We smile, of course, even at responses we've heard thousands of times - such as, "not bad for an old man," "on the top side of the grass" or "better'n I deserve."

For the new response, my smile broadened, and I filed it away to plagiarize later: "I'm still vertical and ventilating."...

The Clarendon Lions Club held its regular Tuesday noon meeting July 9, 2024, with Boss Lion Richard Green in charge.

We had 15 members and Sweetheart Emma Roys present this week along with one guest - Michael Dewese, guest of Lion Chelsea Covey.

The Boss Lion thanked everyone who helped with the Lions Bingo and BBQ Cookoff as well as the Cow Patty Bingo. Reports were given on each fundraiser, and Lion Ted Shaller reported that the blood drive had eight donations.

The club was reminded about the upcoming District 2-T1 cabinet meeting next weekend in Lake Tanglewood.

Lion Brian Barboza reminded everyone of the upcoming Summer Celebration on July 15 with News-Channel 10.

There being no further business, we were adjourned to spread Lionism and good cheer.

Here's How It Works:
 Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
