Donley jobless rate dips in August report

Jobless rates in the Texas Panhandle continue to be lower than the state average overall, but Donley and Hall counties continue to see higher rates.

August unemployment data shows Donley County's jobless rate actually fell from 5.0 percent in July to 4.8 percent last month.

Seventy-one people were looking for work in Donley County compared to 74 in July, and the workforce decreased slightly from 1,469 in July to 1,465.

In Hall County, the unemployment rate went up from 5.4 percent in July to 5.9 percent for August. 65 people were looking for work out of a workforce of 1,105 compared to 60 unemployed people and a workforce of 1,046 in August.

Regionally, the Texas Panhandle labor market continues to demonstrate resilience, with unemployment rates remaining relatively low compared to the state and national averages. Amarillo MSA and the Panhandle Workforce Development Area (WDA) both experienced slight increases in unemployment rates in August 2024 compared to the previous year, but these rates remain below the state average.

The City of Amarillo experienced a slight increase in the unemployment rate in August 2024, rising to 3.3 percent from 3.2 percent in the same month of the previous year.

The Panhandle WDA also saw a modest increase in the unemployment rate in August 2024, rising to 3.5 percent from 3.4 percent in the previous year. However, the WDA's unemployment rate continues to be lower than the state average.

The state of Texas experienced a slight increase in its unemployment rate in August 2024, rising to 4.4 percent from 4.2 percent in the previous year. Workforce Solutions will be having a Red, White, and You job fair at 3120 Eddy in Amarillo on November 7 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Jones' legacy cuts across social lines

In the history of Hollywood there are just some lines that are so iconic that no other information is needed for automatic recognition. They are so known that they have become part of our vocabulary and are often used in our day-to-day conversations – lines like “We’re not in Kansas anymore,” “Go ahead. Make my day,” “I’m gonna make him an offer he can’t refuse,” and “I’ll be back.”

Some actors over the years have had several of these lines. I think Humphrey Bogart has at least 10, but most actors are lucky to have one. What sets James Earl Jones apart is that he has two and both are in movies in which he did not actually act. Yet, with Jones, it was okay not to see him because it’s impossible to not recognize that voice.

historically speaking
by dr. james fink

Jones’ voice is possibly the most recognized voice ever in Hollywood. That deep baritone. Movie history was made in 1977, starting with the opening scene of Star Wars: Episode IV – A New Hope when a massive star destroyer filled up the entire screen as it chased down Princess Leia’s ship. The movie just started and yet the audience was already enthralled. As Leia’s ship was boarded and a fight breaks out, suddenly Darth Vader enters.

Using the Force, Vader begins to choke an officer and asks, “Where are those transmissions you intercepted?” Suddenly, one of the greatest villains was born. It will not be until Episode V – The Empire Strikes Back (the best in the entire series by the way) that Vader gives his most iconic and often misquoted line, “No, I am your father,” and cemented Jones into legendary status of movie one-liners.

Jones helped make Star Wars into one of the most, if not the most, influential movie franchises of all time. It helped establish the massive special effects blockbusters that came to dominate Hollywood. It was also the first movie to really franchise itself with a toy deal, making over $100 million (approximately $400 million today) in the first year or so. I still have a couple of my old action figures that I played with as a kid somewhere in my house.

For me, Jones’ second-most iconic line comes from a much softer movie but one where you still never saw his face. After young Prince Simba runs away, he eventually has to decide if he will return and face his mistakes and stand up for his pride or continue to shirk his responsibilities. As he is struggling, he has a vision of his father who reminds him, “Remember who you are. You are my son and the one true king.” In this heartwarming story, it’s Jones, as the great King Mufasa, who gives his son the courage to return. Again, Jones is part of an important movie as it was an essential aspect of the Disney renaissance. The Lion King is arguably one of Disney’s greatest animated presentations when you mix the storyline, music and voice acting. And the opening scene might actually even beat Star Wars for effect. But neither one of these movies or those lines would be the same without Jones.

While Star Wars and The Lion King are two movies that might have had the most iconic lines, two other movies in one of my favorite genres would also not be the same without Jones.

Most readers probably don’t know this, but in my downtime I pretend to be a sportswriter. For the past four years I have chronicled the exploits of my son’s high school baseball team in a blog I call the Fightin’ Chicks Report. When I’m not writing about history, I am writing about baseball. A few years ago, for my blog, I made a list of my top 10 favorite baseball movies, and it turns out Jones starred in the top two.

Now, my all-time favorite baseball movie is Field of Dreams (1989). This movie is about a son’s chance of redemption and healing through baseball. It is in this movie where Jones (portraying author Terrance Mann) gives my favorite speech of his, “The one constant through all the years, Ray, has been baseball. America has rolled by like an army of steamrollers. It has been erased like a blackboard, rebuilt, and erased again. But baseball has marked the time. This field, this game: it’s a part of our past, Ray. It reminds of us of all that once was good and it could be again.”

It’s this film that made sure I never turned down an opportunity to play catch with my son.

The film explores the racial dynamics in America during that time. It also speaks to the struggles faced by Black Americans in breaking racial barriers and highlights the intersection of sports, race and politics in U.S. history and is one of the first films to do so. The movie covers an important story that was brilliantly acted on by Jones, which is just one more reason why he is so universally beloved.

It has been interesting to see the outpouring of love for Jones this week on social media. It is evident that some entertainers touch people’s lives more than others. Jones cut across social and racial lines to bring so much joy to so many over the years. While he will be missed as an actor, his voice will live on. One last note: If you have not seen the episode of Big Bang Theory with Jones, Google it. It’s funny enough to be worth your effort.

Osprey crash generates unfair criticism

The crash of a CV-22 Osprey, call sign Gundam 22, off the coast of Japan in November 2023 has generated a wave of unfair scrutiny against the aircraft. The loss of any service member is an absolute tragedy, but the conversation surrounding the V-22 Osprey has become disproportionately negative, often overlooking key facts about the incident and the essential role this aircraft plays in our military’s success.

Critics paint a picture of the Osprey as an inherently dangerous aircraft, claiming it is more prone to accidents than other military platforms; however, the data and the facts tell a much different story.

The Marine Corps variant of the Osprey, the MV-22, has become a cornerstone of U.S. military operations, consistently proving its reliability in challenging environments. Despite its extensive use, the MV-22’s mishap rate per 100,000 flight hours is “equal to or less than any airframe flown,” according to the commandant of the Marine Corps, Gen. Eric M. Smith. He also recently said, “They’re completely safe. They have a better safety record than most aircraft.”

When compared to conventional helicopters, like the H-60 Black Hawk or the H-47 Chinook, the V-22’s safety record remains well within acceptable industry standards. Beyond its favorable safety record, the Osprey offers significant advantages and capabilities that conventional helicopters cannot match. Its unique tilt-rotor design enables it to take off and land in confined spaces while flying faster and farther than traditional helicopters. These advantages provide critical support in combat, medical evacuation operations, and disaster relief efforts, often meaning the difference between life and death.

The safety of our service members is and always will remain our highest priority. Use of the V-22 aircraft in a variety of critical environments is vital for the success of our men and women in uniform. At every stage of the V-22’s lifecycle, from development to combat operations, highly skilled professionals work diligently to ensure the aircraft’s safety and effectiveness. During my time in the Navy, and now as a member of the House Armed Services Committee, I have spent considerable time flying onboard the V-22; therefore, I know firsthand that this is not just a phenomenal aircraft, but it provides our military with unique capabilities and advantages that we simply cannot afford to be without.

The V-22 operates under stringent

by us rep. ronny jackson protocols and maintenance requirements, reinforcing the confidence military leaders have in the aircraft and its critical role in maintaining readiness and deterrence. While military flight operations are inherently risky, the Osprey remains an indispensable asset in our defense strategy.

We must remember and honor the eight airmen who tragically lost their lives in the mishap of Gundam 22, but we must also avoid any overreaction that would degrade our military’s operational capabilities moving forward. The Department of Defense conducted a thorough investigation into the incident, and we are working collaboratively to address the findings while taking the necessary steps to ensure the Osprey continues to operate safely and effectively.

It is the duty of Congress to rely on facts, not fears, when evaluating the V-22 Osprey. This aircraft is a combat-proven asset that deserves our continued support and investment. As we move forward, we will continue to improve and build upon the innovative technology embodied by the V-22, because ultimately, enhancing the capabilities of the V-22 will contribute to a more secure future for our country and ensure our military has the advantages it needs to compete with and win against our adversaries.

Congressman Ronny Jackson represents the 13th Congressional District of Texas.

Triplets set to break records at UT

The arrival of the football-playing Coleman triplets at the University of Texas in Austin for 2025’s fall semester may break several records before they even meet BEVO, the Longhorns’ beloved mascot.

When have three guys weighing a half-ton ever played as teammates in any collegiate sport, anywhere?

Stars at Cedar Hill High School, seniors Isaiah, 6-2, 260; Devin, 6-4, 340, and Jordan, 6-5, 350, together are only 50 pounds shy of 1,000 pounds right now. If they exceed the “freshman 15” by just 10 percent, they’ll weigh a half-ton when they gather ‘round the Thanksgiving table next year. (If “freshman 15” warrants explanation, that’s the average number of pounds freshmen gain during colleges’ first semester while dining in the cafeteria they complain about.)....

Many of us – admitted “sports nuts” – are often unsure about much, but don’t let our uncertainties lessen our frequent outcries.

I’m off the fence, ready to join football fans who are groaning about the sad effects of instant replay, and the ongoing efforts to “get calls right.”

How much did both teams lose in Fort Worth recently when the most exciting final two-minutes were marred by a delay of four minutes and 35 seconds to determine whether a fumble occurred? Bands often complete halftime shows in this time span. The University of Central Florida eked out a win in the final seconds over the Texas Christian University Horned Frogs, who blew a three-touchdown lead....

Maybe it is a weak segue from football to the Texas State Fair, where a judge has ruled that only peace officers will be allowed to bear firearms on the fairgrounds during its three-week run.

Who can predict? There’ll probably be squabbles at the fair on this very topic. However, shoot-outs should be minimized.

I rarely think of state fairs without recalling a yarn heard years ago. At one fair, long lines waited to board the Ferris Wheel, which often had seats shared by riders who’d never seen each other previously. One night, the wheel lurched to a stop, allowing one couple to exit and another to board. At the top of the wheel, one guy says, “Ten years ago tonight, I became enraged when the wheel stopped with me at the top. I pummeled a fellow rider whom I’d never seen. My final shove sent him falling into the night, seriously injured. I have spent the past decade in a mental institution; I was released just today.” The other man, cowering in his side of the seat, whimpered, “I remember you.”....

Referencing Dallas at this time brings to mind the sudden resignation of Dallas Police Chief Eddie Garcia, whose three-year-plus tenure in “Big D” has been widely lauded, with “best ever” plaudits expressed by many. (He’s going to Austin to become Assistant City Manager to T. C. Broadnax, who formerly was Garcia’s boss in Dallas before Broadnax signed on as Austin City Manager a few months ago.) At the time, Garcia said he would “run through a wall” for Broadnax.

the idle american

by don newbury

I don’t recall ever reading or hearing so many positive comments about the departure of a public servant, particularly in a major city. One such commentary was provided by the Dallas Morning News’ Sharon Grigsby, one of the Metroplex’s finest writers.

In one sentence, she captured the essence of the views of thousands: “How many folded flags can a police chief hand to a grieving family before he has had enough?”....

It is a foregone conclusion that the world is awash in rage, controversy, strife and much other muck. One is sports-oriented, and until recent years, didn’t even come to mind outside of golf circles.

I’m talkin’ about the PGA vs. LIV golf kerfuffle.

David Feherty – a player, then a broadcaster for almost a half-century – claims that the “whole LIV vs. PGA Tour thing is like two fleas arguing about who owns a dog.”....

Dr. Newbury, longtime university president, continues to speak and write. The Idle American, begun in 2003, is one of the nation’s longest-running syndicated humor columns. Contact: 817-447-3872. Email: newbury@speakerdoc.com.

Cruz bill would improve disaster assistance

US Sen. Ted Cruz (R-Texas) and Sen. Elizabeth Warren (D-Mass.) introduced the Regional Impact of Disasters and Emergencies Relief (RIDER) Act to improve access to and delivery of federal relief to disaster-struck communities.

This bipartisan, bicameral bill would amend existing law to better address the on-the-ground experiences of communities affected by major disasters.

Upon introduction, Sen. Cruz said, "Texas is no stranger to natural disasters, and we must do more to ensure our communities can rebuild in times of need. That's why I'm focused on enhancing the disaster declaration process, ensuring Texans — from small towns and rural areas — can access the resources needed to restore our homes, businesses, and livelihoods. I am proud to partner with Senator Warren alongside Representatives Babin and Garamendi to introduce bipartisan legislation to ensure no community is left behind in the wake of catastrophe."

Sen. Warren, "The growing climate crisis means natural disasters and emergencies are only going to become more common. Part of tackling the crisis head on is making sure we're ready to deliver critical relief to impacted communities when they need it most — the RIDER Act does exactly that."

Chief Nim Kidd, Texas Division of Emergency Management said, "Texans are no strangers to natural disasters, and bureaucratic processes that must be endured to unlock federal assistance. The RIDER Act would enhance the flow of federal aid, by cutting through the red tape of technicalities and subjective federal standards to ensure that Texans are able to receive the relief and resources needed to fully recover."

Reps. Brian Babin (R-Texas-36) and John Garamendi (D-Calif.-8) have introduced companion legislation in the House of Representatives.

The RIDER Act will do two things: Improve the distribution of disaster relief funds by allowing all communities directly affected by a major disaster to be eligible for federal relief, regardless of county or state lines; and Enable the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) to declare major disasters based on cumulative damage to a community over a 12-month period, addressing concerns that existing federal regulations do not sufficiently account for the impact of cumulative disasters on a region.

Lily Stasio competed in the 5k at Hall County picnic. She got 3rd overall, 1st in her age division and first female.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

The Clarendon Lions Club held its regular Tuesday noon meeting September 24, 2024, with Boss Lion Richard Green in charge.

We had ten members present, two attending virtually, Sweetheart Lauren Cenicerros, and five guests this week – Rita Gehman, guest of Lion Eric Gehman; Ben Estlack, guest of Lion Roger Estlack; and Mark James, Desiree Marmolejo, and Mariana Minotto, guests of the Club.

Clarendon College Athletic Director Mark James was our program this week, and he updated us on the success that Volleyball Head Coach Desiree Marmolejo is having in her second year at CC. James said while the volleyball program has struggled in the past, Coach Marmolejo and her team have a 16-6 record so far this season. The best record a CC volleyball team has, according to NJCAA records, is 10 wins in a season, James said, and two of this year's losses have come against Top 25-ranked teams. Asst. Coach Mariana Minotto is from Brazil and is a Clarendon alumna and has been a great help to Coach Marmolejo and the college athletic program.

Balloting was opened for Lion of the Year, and the Lions Charter Banquet will be Tuesday, October 29. The annual Pancake Supper will be November 1, and tickets will be available starting next week.

There being no further business, we were adjourned to spread Lionism and good cheer throughout our fair county.

Broncos suffer loss to Gruver

By Sandy Anderberg

The Clarendon Broncos have faced a tough pre-district season on the football field. Their 18-51 loss at home last week was another hard-fought game with a discouraging outcome for the young team.

The Broncos got started on the wrong foot when they were pushed back behind their own goal line a minute into the game and suffered a safety at the hands of the Greyhounds. Gruver went on to score 30 points in the opening quarter of play and reached 50 points at the break.

Despite the loss, the Broncos had some bright spots on both sides of the ball. Mason Sims did a good job at the quarterback spot but struggled with fumbles and interceptions. Sims earned the Broncos' first score of the game on a 55-yard run around the left side to the endzone. Penalties plagued the Broncos just when they began to find momentum in the game. Sims did, however, find Colton Caudle for a 37-yard pass early on, but narrowly fell short of six.

Junior Kyler Bell stepped in at the QB position late in the game and connected with Mason from 17 yards out for a touchdown and then found him again for another six points.

The Broncos are determined to turn things around and will focus on Lockney for their Homecoming game Friday night at 7:00 p.m. in Bronco Stadium.

Ybarra finishes ninth at Amarillo Invitational Meet

By Sandy Anderberg

Clarendon's Tristen Ybarra ran a great 5K race at Klein Park in Amarillo last weekend and placed ninth out of 52 runners from 1A-4A.

Ybarra's time of 17:37.57 was less than a minute and a half off the winning time.

Madi Benson ran 10th out of 80 runners in the girls' division with a time of 13:32.82 for the two-mile course. Benson was able to lead the Lady Bronco team to an impressive third place in a field of 1A-4A schools. Elliot Frausto stayed close to Benson and finished 13th at 13:48.02, and Addy Havens ran right behind Frausto in 15th place with a time of 13:52.38.

Gracie Ellis was 24th at 14:39.07, and Lexi Phillips ran 39th with a time of 15:28.99.

The Broncos and Lady Broncos will be open September 28 and will run October 1 in the Greenbelt Gallop at Kinkaid Park.

Colts drop game to Gruver, 8-18

The Clarendon Junior High Colts played a good game against the Greyhounds last Thursday night finishing with an 8-18 loss.

The Colts played strong against the bigger team and made some good yardage on offense and good stops on defense.

Gruver earned their first score of the game just under the two-minute mark in the first quarter to go up by six.

The Colts took the kick-off down to their own 45-yard line and on the first play from scrimmage, quarterback Braxton Gribble made a quick pitch to Paxton English for a good gain to the Greyhound's 42-yard line. Gribble was then able to get it to the 34 before the end of the first quarter. After another gain by English and a couple of hustle runs by Gribble, he was able to take it in on a keeper. Gribble ran around the outside to make the two-point conversion to lead by two.

After a second Gruver score, the Colts moved the ball well but was intercepted. The Colts kept Gruver out of the endzone until the second half when they scored one more touchdown.

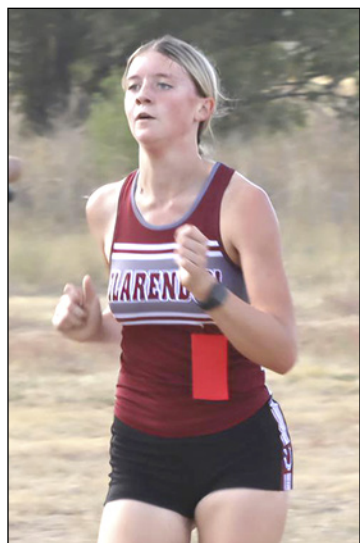

The Colts' team is made of athletes from sixth through eighth grade. 8th Graders: Gribble, English, Brance Bell, Rustin Wade, Brentley Gaines, Jaden Guerra, and Josh Holt. 7th Graders: Jaquan Weather-ton, TJ Smith, Teagan Chesser, Wyatt Devanny, and Colten Madsen.

The Colts will travel to Lockney on Thursday, September 26, and play at 5 p.m.
